

Joy Lewis has just walked into a nightmare. Entering her friend's home, Joy is met with her dead body, and the guy Joy had been renting a room to, stood over it. He killed her, and now, he must kill her. Ben has broken all the rules with his latest target. Joy was a distraction and now that she is a witness, he can't let her go. He takes her and hides her away on his island. She can scream, run, and no one will hear her. She's trapped with him, with only the use of a diary to spill her secrets. The attraction to Ben started long before she saw him as a killer. How can she want a man who kills people for money? Joy can't deny her attraction. Alone together on an island, there's no way she can keep him away for long, and what's worse, she doesn't want to. Nothing can last, and even though Joy has gotten under his skin, he will not change the man he's become. He's a killer, and there's no room for Joy. Their time together is coming to an end, but can their love be enough to keep them together?
